Money Taken From Cash Register.

Ring up $2 to open the cash register in the men's department of the Strasbaugh restaurant on Center Square, sometime on Thursday night, a thief or thieves extracted $38.77 from the open drawer which had been left therein after the closing hour near midnight. Guy Strasbaugh, proprietor of the restaurant, was out of town when place was closed, and John Rinehart and Joseph Miller, employes, left the money in the register and locked the building. On Friday morning, when Strasbaugh and Rinehart arrived at the restaurant they were surprised at the $2 ring-up, and immediate investigation disclosed the loss of the money. There was no evidence indicating the manner of entry to the room, and this is the mystery. Nothing outside of the money was disturbed in the store. Several months ago, entry was made by unlocking the front door; and then several dollars worth of goods was taken. Since then, the door has been well secured; and all the doors and windows were found intact on Friday morning. This bit of thievery was most peculiar and strange, and no solution can be clearly arrived at. To thicken matters, $3 in change was left in the drawer, the amount Mr. Strasbaugh had usually left there.

Paint Deadly to Animals.

Several bucket of bright red paint proved too much of a temptation one day recently, for a cow and four hogs belonging to Charles Harney, who resides near the Hoffman Orphanage, Mt. Joy township, at Two Taverns, and they partook gladly of the supposedly refreshing liquid to appease their unquenching thirst. The result is the cow, which was a very valuable one, and one of the hogs are dead, and the other hogs have little chance of recovery. Mr. Harney let the buckets of paint sit on the ground in access to the animals while he was in the act of painting his barn. The loss is considerable.

Stevens Acquitted.

Harry Stevens, the Heidersburg horse dealer, who has come before the public so often before by his horse dealing transactions, was acquitted in the Dauphin county criminal court on Friday, on the charge of having received stolen goods, the stolen "goods" a horse, from a Harrisburg man. Stevens pleaded not guilty and so earnestly was he in his plea of innocence that he brought the "nag" in question along with him to the court house to sustain his contention that the animal was not worth fifty cents.

Found Old Coin.

While working in the lot of ground adjoining his home on Lincoln Way, West, one day recently, T. J. Herman was the fortunate finder of a silver ten cent piece of the date 1829. The coin was not worn and appeared as bright as a newly made one. It bears the eagle, similar to our present quarter, and on the reverse side appears "10 c". It is considerably larger than the present dime. The recent heavy rains likely washed away the ground which covered the now much prized piece for these many years.

Teacher Resigns.

Miss Ida E. Feiser, who has taught the intermediate school in this place for the past three terms, and who was recently elected for the term of 1915-16, has tendered her resignation to the School Board. Miss Feiser has accepted a position as teacher of a grade school at Steelton, Pa.

Oiling State Road.

The Highway force received orders to proceed with the oiling of the State road between Gettysburg and New Oxford. Heavy crude oil containing naphtha is used in treating State roads. This is placed on the surface with pressure tanks, after which fine stone is used as surfacer.

Bridge Is Accepted.

Boards of view from Adams and York counties approved the bridge over Beaver creek, connecting Hamilton township, Adams county and Paradise township, York county, on Friday, and the bridge was formally accepted by the commissioners of the two counties who were present at the viewing. The bridge was erected at a cost of $2138.20, and half of this amount will be paid by each of the counties concerned. The viewers from Adams county were, Calvin Gilbert, of Gettysburg; Michael Rebert, of East Berlin, and Henry Moore, of Hamilton township. The bridge is known as the "Beaver creek bridge" and was erected by A. G. and F. M. Wagaman, of Dallastown, York county. Their bid accepted by the county commissioners, was $1984.

A horse belonging to Elmer Butt fell at the hitching place in the rear of the Reformed church, in Abbottstown, on Saturday evening, sustaining a broken leg and had to be killed on Sunday. Mr. Butt hitched there, while he attended to some business, and when he returned found it lying upon the ground. It is thought the horse had an attack of colic.

James Stovesifer, who lives on the Strine farm near White Hall was returning home from Hanover on Saturday night sometime after midnight, with three of his friends in a buggy when some unthoughtful fellow at Sieberlick's Pool Room in Midway threw a cracker in front of the team and frightened the horse. In the horse's plunge the occupants were thrown to the ground but fortunately escaped injury. The buggy was badly damaged.

Narrow Escape From Death As Engine Strikes Auto.

Unable to put on speed or to stop his Reo automobile in which he and his family were going to Hanover on a pleasure trip about 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, LeRoy Rife, who lives in Mt. Pleasant township, about 1 1/2 miles south-west of New Oxford, attempted to cross the Western Maryland tracks on Carlisle street in Hanover after coasting down Bunker Hill, and was struck by the Gettysburg engine which suddenly the slowly ran from behind the billboard on his left. Fortunately, the automobile was jammed against a telegraph pole by the engine, preventing the machine from being hurled a distance or turning turtle.

Mrs. Rife was sitting on the rear seat of the car with two children but fortunately she was holding onto the back of the front seat at the time and only suffered from the shock of the accident. The two younger children, Edgar and Florence, were thrown from the car and both were seriously injured. Edgar, 4 years old, received a deep cut on the left side of his face, extending from the top of the forehead to the eye, requiring eight stitches to close; a small cut below the eye and other bruises on his face. Florence, the baby of 2 years, had a cut across her forehead which required six stitches to close. Clarence, 6 years old, was sitting in front with his father, and the impact threw him off the seat, seriously bruising the right side of his face. Mr. Rife escaped injury.

The children were picked up and carried to the office of Dr. J. H. Bittinger, where they received surgical attention. Blood was issuing from their wounds and it is said they were unconscious for some time. Dr. Bittinger expressed no fear of internal injuries. The children are now up and about, in good spirits, suffering but little from their injuries. Those who witnessed the accident state that it was remarkable that all the occupants escaped death.

The auto was badly damaged, the top being torn to pieces, the rear axle bent and the body of the car twisted and splintered.

Cut Her Throat.

In a melancholy state of mind, Mrs. Charles Strasbaugh, night nurse in the insane department at the county home, attempted suicide by cutting her throat with a razor, on Tuesday about 1 o'clock p. m. After inflicting the wound she attempted sew it up and made three stitches with an ordinary needle and white thread. She was found in her room about 4 hours later by her husband. She had become weak from the loss of blood but the gash had narrowly escaped the jugular vein, and the injury it is thought not to be serious. Dr. Diehl was summoned and gave her the necessary attention. The gash required nine stitches to close. Mrs. Strasbaugh with a number of other women, employed at the home, had washed during Tuesday morning. They stopped work about 10 o'clock, and Mrs. Strasbaugh went to her room to lie down until noon. When the bell was rung for dinner, her husband, who was also in the bedroom, went downstairs, after his wife had told him she was tired and would rest during the dinner hour. He thought nothing more of it and went to his dinner. She was not present at the supper table at 5:30 and her husband, fearing something wrong, hastened to the room. He found her there, lying on the bed in a pool of blood. She told him she had committed the act about 1 o'clock. Mrs. Strasbaugh has been a nurse at the county institution for about three years. Her husband is also employed at the home.

W. M. Summer Schedule.

The Summer schedule of the Western Maryland railroad which went into effect on Sunday, June 20th contains a number of changes. The train arriving in New Oxford at 9:01 a. m. going east, is changed to 10:01 a. m.; this train will run from Highfield to York and is daily, except Sunday. The daily train west from Baltimore to Highfield will arrive here at 9:48 a. m., instead of 9:49 a. m., as heretofore. The 4:07 p. m. train from Highfield to Baltimore, daily, is changed to 6:12 p. m., and the train west at 5:12 p. m. from York will now reach New Oxford according to schedule, at 6:29 p. m., daily except Sunday. The Pittsburgh express is left on this line, arriving here eastbound, at 6:05 a. m. and westward at 10:59 p. m. The schedule, it is noted, gives two trains each way between Baltimore and Highfield, and one train each way between York and Highfield.

The Mason and Dixon Line.

The Western Maryland Railway Company has decided to adopt as its slogan, "The Mason and Dixon Line", and on all printed matter this will appear in the future. It is also proposed to have this addition to the name of the road on all signs. These will be placed at the local and other stations. The future title of the road will be "The Western Maryland Railway Company—The Mason and Dixon Line". This name has been chosen because the road crosses and re-crosses the old Mason and Dixon Line in Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The Change in Rural Routes.

The change in rural routes out of Littlestown, which the Postoffice Department proposes to make effective on July 1st, is meeting with much disapproval. Orders have been issued to discontinue route 3 from Littlestown, which has been served by Carrier Mehring, the patrons to be served by a route from Hanover. The route in question covers that part of Adams county from the neighborhood of White Hall to Centennial.

Following an illness of seven weeks, from cancer of the stomach, Mrs. Lucy Heindel, wife of George W. Heindel, died at her late home in Hanover at 9:15 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. She was aged 75 years, 11 months and 2 days. The deceased is survived by her husband and 3 children.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Sarah A. Wiest, who died suddenly one year ago, June 22nd, 1914. Oh, mother! Thy gentle voice is hushed, Thy warm, true heart is still, And on thy pale and peaceful face Is resting death's cold chill. Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast, We have kissed thy loving brow; In our aching hearts we know We have no mother now.

BY HER CHILDREN.

Why should we wish her back again, To this world full of sorrow and care, When we know she is safe with Jesus And has no sorrow there.

BY HER GRANDCHILDREN.

Gone but not forgotten.

Seeing the form of a man go beneath the wheels as a W. M. fast freight bound for Baltimore was rapidly passing Pen-Mar Park late on Saturday night. Conductor Taylor had the train stop, and running back to the place, discovered a pool of blood, but no sign of the injured man. Where he could have disappeared is a mystery, but it is that that his companions, who seemed beforehand to have been intoxicated, picked him up and removed him to some place of seclusion, thinking perhaps they might be held for attempting to jump on the freight.

Scared by an approaching W. M. passenger train running along the State road near Gettysburg, on Thursday morning, the colt, driven by Robert and Earl Thompson, sons of Sheriff G. R. Thompson, took fright and ran away. The boys, seeing they could not control the animal, proceeded to climb out thru the back part of the buggy, and in attempting to dismount each one was thrown heavily to the road, receiving several minor bruises, but fortunately escaping any serious injuries. The colt was stopped, and the boys were able to drive back to Gettysburg.

A representative of the State Board of Health was in New Oxford recently calling upon some people who have filthy hog pens, and places of business in unsanitary conditions. The boro officials have been trying to remedy these conditions, but no attention has been paid. Now it appears that some of the citizens have taken the matter in hand and reported the conditions to the State officials. The officers will find they will not have the officials of this boro to deal with. There are several more places here that need attention, and it is to be hoped they will be looked after.

There will be a big time in Hampton on Saturday, July 3rd, when the dedication of Red Men's Hall will take place. Invitations have been extended to many secret and patriotic orriers hereabouts and it is that a number of them with bands will participate in the parade to form at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. After the parade the public dedicatory services will be held in the I. O. R. M.'s new hall. Prominent speakers will deliver addresses. A festival and band concert will be held in the evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come to Hampton for the affair.

Adams county peach growers are facing a big proposition in the thinning of their crop this year, and all agree that it will be next to impossible to do the work as thoroughly as is necessary to get the best results. According to the most advanced growers, about 80 per cent. of the peaches now on the trees should be taken off in order to accomplish good results. From practically every section of the country come reports of bumper peach crops being in prospect and the growers agree that the fruit will be a glut upon the market. Only those who have specially fine peaches will be able to get prices worth while and, as a result, the local orchardists are thinning out as much as possible.
